TALK OF THE TOWN

Alexander Rennie left yesterday for a visit of several days with friends in Littleton, N. H.

Robert McKnight has returned to his home in Springfield, Mass., after passing several days at his home here.

A. L. Gale and D. A. Sawin of Chicago, Ill., representing the Taylor-Gritcheff-Clague agency, which carries the Barre granite advertising, were in the city to-day to confer with the officials of the Barre Quarriers' and Manufacturers' association.

Robert and Andrew McKenzie of Springfield, Mass., arrived in the city to-day to attend the funeral of their brother, George McKenzie, whose death occurred in Springfield yesterday. Messrs. McKenzie made the trip by automobile.

Misses Adele and Erlene McConachie, the one a teacher in the city schools and the other a graduate in the class of 1917 at Spaulding high school, left Saturday for Burlington, where they are making a brief visit before going to Lake George to pass the summer.

With the sky pelted down a final deluge as the end of a perfectly rainy day, observers at dusk last night noted one of the most gorgeous sunsets of the spring. The phenomenon was to be observed at a time when all but the western horizon was thickly overcast with dark clouds.

About 20 of the public school teachers, on the eve of the departure of many of them for their homes outside the city, gathered at the home of Miss Mildred Rooney, 7 Laurel street, last Friday evening to tender Miss Mary Carroll a miscellaneous shower in honor of her approaching marriage to M. J. Murphy of Hartford, Conn. A musical program was rendered during the evening and refreshments were served. The party broke up at a late hour, wishing all kinds of good luck to Miss Carroll.

Manager J. B. Eames of the Park theatre, who recently leased the Playhouse in Montpelier, installed his operatives in the theatre Friday. His mother is acting temporarily as cashier of the establishment and operators of the moving picture apparatus have been engaged. As an earnest of the fine reception which the Park theatre orchestra received after furnishing music for "Civilization," a feature film, Friday and Saturday, a Montpelier newspaper says: "The music alone was worth the price of admission."

Enterprise alley had just settled back into its forenoon siesta after an exciting runaway of the early morning Saturday when a farmer's team, tethered near Romanis court, took fright at a chugging locomotive and started to reawake the alley from its lethargy. Unhappily, the countryman had loaded a jag of furniture on the deck of his wagon and when the horses began their flight, bed room sets, kitchen ware and the parlor block vied with each other in tumbling overboard. The trip down the alley was fraught with hazards for teamsters gathered in the M. & W. R. freight yard, but drivers moved their steeds with alacrity and no collisions resulted. The horses, with a wagon minus much of its load, were stopped half-way to Depot square.

TALK OF THE TOWN

Dr. Homer Sowles and Dr. Cutler of Boston were week-end visitors in the city. Gypsies in automobiles have again taken possession of the little plot of ground between the river and the tracks at Dodge's crossing. The camp seems to be comprised of children for the most part, grown-ups numbering but three.

Mr. and Mrs. John Gladstone of Manchester, N. H., are passing several days in the city as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Stephen of Madison street. Mr. Gladstone is a native of the district in Scotland where scenes in the life of Robert Burns are laid and on the occasion of his present visit in Barre he has inspected with deep interest the monument to the Scottish bard in the yard at Spaulding school.

H. Nelson Browne, a sophomore at Dartmouth college, returned to Barre Saturday evening to spend a few weeks at the home of his parents on Cliff street. Mr. Browne won his letter in baseball this spring for excellence shown in playing in the intercompany games of the Dartmouth regiment. There were no varsity games played. Mr. Browne is planning to go to the summer school of the University of Illinois at Chicago this summer.

While on the trail of delinquent taxpayers and derelict dogs, Constable George L. Morris ran into a scene of belligerence which two men are said to have been staging in front of the A. T. block on North Main street. The constable placed the pair under arrest and delivered them at police headquarters. They gave their names as William Lowe and Charles Rollins when charges of breaking the peace were preferred against them. It was alleged by the officer that the men were fighting, but Rollins entered a plea of not guilty and furnished bail for his appearance at a hearing Thursday. Lowe acknowledged the offense and was postponed until Rollins has his hearing.

The membership posters of the American Red Cross have been superseded throughout the city by new subscription posters printed in red ink on a white card. In the interstices between the arms of a large red cross appear the words: Sacrifice, Devotion, Humanity and Patriotism. Two quotations of President Wilson also aid in interpreting the humanitarian purpose of this week's national-wide campaign to obtain $100,000. At the base of the posters are directions as to the sending of checks. These should be made out to the "American Red Cross" and either mailed direct to headquarters in Washington, D. C., or turned over to the local branch.

Two Barre boys will take an active part in the graduation exercises to be held at Dartmouth college this week. They are Alexander Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Brown of 7 Kirk street, and Victor Collins Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Smith of the east hill. Mr. Brown will receive the degree of A. B. He is enrolled at present in the quarter-master's course in Tuck school and at the completion of that on Saturday of this week expects to be sent to Fort Meyer, Va., for several more weeks of training under the supervision of the government. He will then be a commissioned officer in the quartermaster's corps of the United States army.

Mr. Smith is a member of the Sigma Phi Psi fraternity and of the Dartmouth Christian association, of which he is secretary, and will receive a B. S. degree. He is also enrolled in the Thayer school of civil engineering.

Victor Collins Smith of the east hill returned Saturday evening from Hanover, N. H., to spend the week at his home. On Wednesday Mr. Smith will receive the degree of B. S. from Dartmouth college. Mr. Smith is connected with the Thayer school of civil engineering at Hanover and with a party of Thayer school men has been engaged since the latter part of April in surveying the New Hampshire-Vermont boundary line. Last summer the state of Vermont had the line surveyed and this season New Hampshire is having it done. When the survey is completed it will form an essential part of New Hampshire's court testimony in her effort to establish the state line on the Vermont side of the Connecticut river. Mr. Smith states that the work is about half completed, the party averaging from one to three miles a day, depending upon the varying topography encountered. The work will probably be finished by July 20.

At a meeting of the executive committee of the local branch of the American Red Cross, William D. MacDonald, president of the manufacturers' association, was chosen chairman. This was on Friday and that the committee has not been idle since its formation is shown in the quick order in which it arranged for the public mass meeting held in the opera house last evening. Despite the fact that only a few good speakers were available for Red Cross meetings throughout the state and that most of them had full itineraries on last Friday, Harold W. Elliott, director of the Vermont chapter of the society, and Rev. Paul D. Moody, chaplain of the 1st Vermont infantry, were secured. A hurry call on the printer brought forth a batch of handbills and in the short space of two days all preparations for the enthusiastic rally at the opera house were handled. The same spirit is to predominate in this week's campaign for $8,000, so you may as well surrender the first time a Red Cross worker approaches you.

Men who are planning to file applications for the second series of reserve officers' training camps are still doubtful as to what course to pursue should be interested in the information offered by local men who went to Fort Ethan Allen Saturday afternoon for the express purpose of ascertaining just what to do. The applications should be made out on prepared application blanks that can be obtained from the Examining officer, R. O. T. C., at Fort Ethan Allen. These blanks have not arrived from national headquarters as yet but are expected every day now. The latest date at which applications may be filed is July 15. Absolutely no consideration will be given those received after that date. The second camp for New England men will not be at Plattsburg, N. Y., as so many people suppose, but will be held at Fort Meyer, Va. The quota from Vermont for the camp will be 58 and preference is to be given to men between the ages of 31 and 50, although the minimum age limit is 20 years and six months. So far as is known at this time from six to ten Barre men plan to apply for admission.

TALK OF THE TOWN

Tutoring in high school subjects. Ralph H. Rogers, tel. 328-W.

Grover Mason, who has been serving the past four years in the United States navy, is spending 30 days with his brother, Harry Mason, at 88 South Main street.

In the report of the flag raising at Alfred Parkhurst's farm on Trow hill last week, the name of Roy Smith, who read "The Flag on the Farm," was inadvertently omitted from the program.

At a special meeting of the Italian Gaiety club Saturday evening plans were made for a club outing to be held late in the month. Instead of holding a dance, the club will enjoy a basket picnic at one of the parks near the city. The following committee was elected: Paul Bianchi, O. Cabrin, Vincent Catto, Henry Fasola, Frank Facini, Miss Mary Restelli, Miss Delena Merlo, Miss Nina Cassellini, Miss Flora Maroni and Miss Inez Maberlin.

Although the clean-up campaign inaugurated by the aldermanic street and health committees last week created something of a stir in back yards where refuse had collected, the efforts of the scavengers, apparently, did not extend to North Barre, where citizens who used the broom effectively are up in arms because the collectors did not appear. According to George Parks, second constable, children are raising havoc with piles of rubbish left for the street department auto truck.

A canvass for the sale of tickets for the presentation of "The Girl From Broadway" ended with a split Saturday which placed the little pastebored reservation cards in the hands of many people. The musical comedy is to be staged in the opera house Thursday and Friday evenings. Already the promoters of the affair are assured that the community is squarely back of them, for the proceeds are to be used as the nucleus for a C company fund similar to the fund for the Headquarters company just prior to its departure for Fort Ethan Allen. To-day the Barre Board of Trade committee which had charge of the recruiting campaign last week was enlisted as one of the boosting units for the C company performance. Rehearsals are being held in the Pavilion theatre, where a cast of 50 Barre people are meeting regularly.

MONTPELIER

Mayor F. W. Mitchell and President J. P. Galleher of the city council left this morning by automobile for Boston, where they will spend a part of the week looking at lighting contracts in that part of Massachusetts, with the purpose of improving the system in Montpelier before placing new contracts. Mayor Mitchell and family were at Burlington Sunday. They went to Fort Ethan Allen also to see how the members of Co. H are feeling and found them in fine spirits and all enjoying good health.

Miss Selma Bianchi, who has been away from her work in the McCuen store since the death of her mother, has resumed her employment.

John Underhill went back to Brandon this morning after a visit in the city. Arthur S. Huse left this morning for Grand Isle, where, with a man from Essex Junction, he has a contract for the plastering of a large building, which it will take them several weeks to complete.

Misses Flora and Leonora Morani returned last evening from a visit in Waterbury.

Mrs. F. H. Hall was taken Sunday afternoon to Heaton hospital, where she underwent an operation. Some months ago she suffered one from which she apparently made a nice recovery, but such was not the case, and a second operation was performed.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Calcegni left this morning for Windsor, where they have employment. Mrs. Calcegni is a photographer in the office and her husband in the machine shops of the manufacturing company in that town of which George Gridley is president. Mr. Gridley is representative from Windsor in the present legislature.

Mess Sergeant John Moshus of Co. H was here Sunday night and this morning. Robert Gordon, who has been ill with appendicitis, is on the road to recovery. Prof. Frederic Edwards and V. A. Duty left this morning for Dartmouth college to attend the graduating exercises. It is the former's 10th annual reunion and the 25th annual reunion of the class of the latter.

Miss Marion Buzzell left this morning for Boston, where she has employment in the Boston office of Deane and Clear, architects on the state building here.

The modern bottling plant located at 34 Granite street, known as the F. W. Langlois Bottling Works, will be known hereafter as the Granite City Bottling Works. The plant is 30x70 feet in dimensions and is equipped with the most modern type of bottling machinery. It is one of the largest in the state. Mr. Langlois has been a soda manufacturer for 27 years, 16 years being spent in Burlington. His trade comes mostly from this city and its vicinity, but the product of the works has such a high reputation for quality that a considerable quantity is shipped to distant points by rail. One special feature of the output of the concern is the purity and absolute wholesomeness and healthfulness of the bottled beverages. Only the purest water is used in compounding the mixtures and the flavoring is most carefully and scientifically done. Four assistants are employed, and in keeping with the modern policy pursued by this plant, motor service has been supplied to horses and wagons. F. W. Langlois is the proprietor.—adv.
